As a governmental or not-for-profit entity you face many unique issues. You must comply with many state and federal regulations. You must manage taxpayer resources efficiently and effectively, and provide accountability for tax dollars spent to support your organization's operations. Sheehan & Company is an accounting firm comprised of professionals who understand the unique environment within which fire districts/companies and emergency medical service organizations operate and the compliance issues they face.

Sheehan & Company has been providing accounting and auditing services to the New York metropolitan area since 1955. Our offices are conveniently located in Brightwaters, Port Washington and midtown Manhattan. We have over 35 years of experience providing accounting, auditing and consulting services to governmental and not-for-profit clients (towns, villages, school districts, fire districts, fire companies, ambulance districts, police districts and benevolent associations).

HOW SHEEHAN & COMPANY CAN SERVE YOUR ORGANIZATION

Some of the services that we offer to fire districts/companies and other emergency medical service organizations include:

- Audit services
- Accounting, bookkeeping and reporting assistance (including financial statements and state reports)
- Internal control evaluations
- Assistance with development and enforcement of compliance policies
 - Travel expenses
 - Out-of-state training
 - Purchasing
 - Use of credit cards
 - Code of ethics
- Length of Service Award Program (LOSAP) disclosures and audits
- Budgeting
- Consulting
- Preparation of 990 tax returns
- Application for tax-exempt status

As a valued client of Sheehan & Company you will receive professional guidance, access to our extensive resources and our active participation throughout the year. Over the course of our professional relationship we will develop an understanding of the challenges you face and assist in addressing any issues that your organization may encounter.
